As we continue to wear masks to keep safe, patients are asking what they can do to soften the 'angry lines' between the eyebrows. The good news is the treatment is very safe with relatively no down time. BOTOX continues to be the most popular med spa treatment in the United States for both women and men. Botox is a purified version of a natural chemical that relaxes overactive muscles which causes frown lines to form.

A typical treatment requires 12 – 16 units every 3 – 4 months and causes little discomfort. You must be in good health; not pregnant or breast feeding or under the care of a physician for a neuro-motor disease.
